

JOHN TUCKER MUST DIE: THE REVIEW

John Tucker must die is an American film released in 2006. It's a teen comedy film directed by Betty Thomas and produced by Bob Cooper and Michael Birnbaum. When the film was released, the film raised $68 million worldwide. It stars by Brittany Snow as Kate, Jesse Metcalfe as John, Ashanti as Heather, Sophia Bush as Beth, Arielle Kebbel as Carrie, Penn Badgley as Scott and Jenny McCarthy as Lori.

Kate Spencer lives with her single mother Lori, near Portland (Oregon), where Kate works as a waitress. The film tells us about a trio of teenage girls who try to break the heart of the school basketball captain John Tucker. He is the most popular guy in school, and he used to date more than one girl at the same time. That trio is made by Beth (the vegan activist girl), Heather (the head cheerleader) and Carrie (the school TV boss). They all are dating Tucker, but they find out that he is cheating on them. Kate tries to help them for not to be expelled or in detention, but she helps the trio to get rid of that by making John fall in love with Kate, the new girl at school. During the film, we can see how Kate and John's exes try to do everything to break Tucker's heart and it finally worked.

A very good aspect of the film are the different comedy scenes that appear as the one of the thongs or when they lie about John having Herpes. I think that's a film with a powerful development because the main plot is so common, but the specific aspects of the film make it better. I think that the end is shocking because most of the people are expecting something but it's not exactly what, in my opinion, happened. This film has not lots of music and most of the sound of the scenes are the ones that we can see with the actions as the whispers in the café or the people going up or down the stairs, and I think that it's an aspect which would be better to have in the film because it's poor. I also think that the film is well-developed because we can see different situations with the details needed but without being so extended that we can get bored of them. I have seen good characters and with a clear personality that we can't get confused and we can see some of their thoughts, tastes, and hobbies.

This film is a work of art and one of the best films I have ever seen because it makes you have a very great time and laugh a lot. I recommend this movie to anyone because it's suitable for all ages, but I think that people between 11 and 22 are the ones that will enjoy it the most. Even though this film is a Disney+ originals, it's an audience pleaser because it's a film with which you'll have a very great time, and you'll entertain yourself with it.
